A: That is a Windows 10 (aero) glass theme which comes with Windows 10 from Microsoft. It should be on your Windows 10 installation already. It comes with Windows 10 Fall Update on October, 17th, 2016. Q: Best way to set up a dns zone that will resolve different hostnames for different zones I want to create a dns zone at a dns provider that will resolve different hostnames for different zones. What's the best way to accomplish this? For example: One zone will resolve: example.com Another zone will resolve: api.example.com web.example.com mymail.example.com I'm looking for the best way to accomplish this. Is there a good dns provider that has this feature built-in? Any good articles to read on the topic? A: The best way I can think of is to have two zones, such as: IN A IN A IN CNAME IN CNAME api.example.com. api.example.com. api.example.com. api.
